

Biden makes fun of reporters with faces, imitations in latest incident insulting the press

Watch: Biden Aides Yell at Reporters as Biden Mocks Them

President Joe Biden's aides lashed out at reporters in an attempt to prevent them from asking Biden questions they didn't want him to answer.

Meanwhile, a video captured the moment on tape where Biden can be seen smiling as reporters yell at reporters.

Biden was then captured mocking the reporters with a gesture he did using his mouth.

This comes as the president has often been silenced by his staff to not answer reporters' questions.

During a January press conference, staffers for Biden repeatedly gave him cues to wrap up the questions, however, he had trouble listening to instructions which caused First Lady Jill Biden to reprimand his aides for not intervening sooner.

Bloomberg News reporter Nancy Cook tweeted that “the Biden WH seems particularly intent on the press not asking any q’s of POTUS 14 days out from the midterms, w/WH aides screaming in the faces of reporters who try to ask Biden q’s following each event today.”

Biden was off to a rough start when this week he responded to questions about his age and health saying that he could “drop dead tomorrow.”

During an MSNBC interview with Jonathon Capeheart, Biden said that he thinks he can still do the job of running the country.

“You know, I could be, I’m a great respecter of fate... I could get a disease tomorrow, I could, you know, drop dead tomorrow,” Biden said, adding “but I, you know, in terms of my energy level, in terms of how much I’m able to do, I think people should look and say, ‘is he, is he still have the same passion for what he’s doing?’ And if they think I do, and I can do it, then that’s fine.”

Biden Does Strange Things With His Face to Mock Reporters Daring to Ask Him Important Questions

Imagine if Trump did something like this.

President Joe Biden appeared to mock a gaggle of screeching White House journalists in a Wednesday Oval Office event.

Biden seemingly babbled in imitation of the White House press corps, smiling and laughing as the media were shepherded out of the Oval Office.

Biden was meeting with Israeli President Isaac Herzog in the meeting. Biden discussed border negotiations between Israel and Lebanon with Herzog, with his partner touching on global security concerns related to Iran.

Biden's staff didn't hesitate for half a second before aggressively insisting that the media leave the office when Herzog concluded his public remarks, as seen in CSPAN footage of the meeting.

All the while, Biden enjoyed a laugh at the media's expense.

Biden has found the spectacle of White House bouncers evicting the media from a room entertaining before. If anything, the bouncers were the loudest ones in the room, but the babbling seemed directed at the media.

Biden's White House staff constantly uses the same badgering, demanding tone when ordering that the media depart from his presence without opportunities to ask questions.

He similarly smirked during a previous media roundup earlier this month, complaining about the press under his breath.

All the while, Biden's hands ensured that the media left the room without time for questions.

The establishment media routinely made accusations that former President Donald Trump didn't respect the press, even as he gave public interviews and answered questions far more frequently than Biden does.

It's not unprecedented for the media to question world leaders and the president in the Oval Office — the Biden administration just didn't allow it, this time.

Biden doesn't have to worry about the media making problems related to his own lack of transparency.

There is no equivalent of Jim Acosta pulling off loud, public interruptions of Biden White House events — and Biden's muscle would instantly escort such an individual from the premises if he proved unwilling to act with obedience in the presence of the president.

In any event, there's a case to be made that the establishment media has enabled Biden's tendency to hide from public scrutiny.

Perhaps they'll realize they have no one to blame but themselves.

President Biden appeared to mock reporters as they shouted questions at him during a meeting with Israeli President Isaac Herzog at the White House on Wednesday.

Once again Joe Biden has reacted with hostility towards the press. The latest attack on the 1st Amendment saw the illegitimate president mocking reporters by making weird faces at them. For a guy who is about to turn 80, he sure has the maturity of an 8-year-old.

Joe Biden met with Israel's President, Isaac Herzog, at the White House on Wednesday. As he's known to do when meeting heads of state, he warned that the American press was unruly. Then, at the end of the meeting, reporters started shouting questions, which is something Biden finds intolerable:

It's hard to put into words what Biden was doing. He looked like he was making faces at reporters and then chuckling at his immature behavior. At one point he silently mouthed words in an exaggerated fashion as if to mock the reporters who dared asked him questions.

Mercifully, the reporters were escorted out of the room and away from Biden's contempt.

When Trump was president, the liberal media told us that the former President was putting journalists' lives in danger by calling them "fake news." The thing is, they were and are fake news, so that was the truth.

Joe Biden is even more hostile to the press and it has nothing to do with his opinion on the validity of their reporting. He hates the press because they ask him legitimate questions that he doesn't want to answer.

Over the weekend, during a softball scripted interview with MSNBC, Biden grabbed journalist Jonathan Capehart like a crazy person after being asked if he is mentally fit to be president.

Just last week, Biden flipped out on 2 reporters and manhandled them because they had the gaul to ask him fair questions:

Yesterday, Joe Biden snapped at Fox News reporter Peter Doocy for asking a fair question, calling him unimportant and insignificant. Today, Biden was asked two more fair questions and lost his shit on two more reporters, telling a female journalist she sucks at math and a male journalist that he is uneducated. As an added bonus, he grabbed and shook both of them. I've said it before and I'll say not again: Joe Biden is a dick.

First up, Biden destroys the pillars of democracy with misogyny:

“John Fetterman’s gonna appear with you today in Pennsylvania, but there haven’t been that many candidates campaigning with you —”

Biden, grabbing the reporter: “That’s not true! There’ve been 15. COUNT KID, COUNT!”

A female reporter tried to ask the legitimate question as to why most democrats don't want Joe Biden campaigning for them. He in turn, grabbed her, shook her and said, “That’s not true. There been 15. Count kid, count!”

Not only did Biden disparage the math skills of this female reporter, he reduced her to a stupid child. Also, he grabbed her and shook her. I've been told that all of these things are violence against women but I guess Joe gets a free pass.

Ironically, Biden was about to fly off to Pittsburgh where he bragged that he spent “a billion 200 a trillion 200 billion dollars.” Maybe he's not the one to sit in judgement of other people's ability to count.

Plus, him bragging that 15 democrats have asked him to campaign for them is not as impressive as he thinks it is. All 435 House seats, 34 Senate seats, and 36 governorships are up for grabs in the 2022 midterm elections. Presumably there is a democrat candidate in all of these 505 races and Biden thinks it's awesome that he's campaigned for 15 of them? Also, that 15 number is probably a lie.

Next, Biden destroyed the pillars of democracy with misandry:

Reporter: “Should there be any restrictions on abortion at all?”

Biden: “Yes. There should be.”

Reporter: “What should they be?”

Biden: “It’s Roe v. Wade. Read it, man. You’ll get educated.” pic.twitter.com/Hk7bMUZBZI

— Greg Price (@greg_price11) October 20, 2022

A male reporter tried to ask the legitimate question if Biden supports any restrictions on abortion. He in turn gabbed him, shook him, and said, “Yes there should be. Roe v. Wade, read it, man. You’ll get educated.”

Not only did Biden inappropriately touch this reporter, he accused him of being uneducated. I’ve been told this kind of hostility towards the press endangers the lives of journalists but I guess Biden gets a free pass.

Ironically, it’s Biden who is in need of some education because Roe v. Wade, the recently overturned SCOTUS decision that had legalized abortion, put no restrictions on it. According to Roe v. Wade, it was completely fine to kill an unborn baby right up until the moment of birth and that’s not a restriction at all.

Plus, Biden saying his belief in abortion restrictions is tied to the Supreme Court’s decision on the matter means that he does support restrictions on abortion. Since Roe v. Wade has been overturned and the matter of abortion returned to the states and since some states have placed restrictions on abortion, that means Biden supports restrictions on abortion. Now who’s the uneducated moron?

For the past two days, Joe Biden has been as irritable with the press as a woman with PMS. Since his entire insane anti-science woke administration insists that everyone can get pregnant, including 80-year-old men, maybe Joe is getting his period.

Or, more likely, Joe Biden is a dick who flips the f*ck out anytime someone asks him a legitimate question that he doesn’t want to answer.

A few days before that, Biden disparaged Fox News correspondent Peter Doocy, calling him unimportant for asking the illegitimate president to clarify his position on abortion.

All of that was just in the past week but Biden has a long history of hostility for the press.

Earlier in the year, Biden snapped at a reporter who brought up the fact that democratic voters were turning on him.

Biden also called Fox News’ Peter Doocy a “stupid son-of-a-bitch” for asking him if he thought inflation would be a problem for democrats in the midterms.

Last year, Biden joke-threatened to kill reporters with a drone strike.

Also last year, Biden threatened to run over a reporter for asking a question about Israel.

Compare all of that to Donald Trump calling Jim Acosta “fake news” and it’s bizarre that the liberal media thinks the former President was a threat to a free press but doesn’t consider the current guy a destroyer of the 1st Amendment.

Which begs the question: If Joe Biden is such a dick to the press, why do they cover for him? Why do they ignore his shocking decline in cognitive ability? Why don’t they hold him accountable when he tells ridiculous lies? Shit, why don’t they report what a horrible job he has done in the White House? That seems newsworthy to me.

I don’t even get why the liberal media kisses Joe’s ass to land exclusive scripted interviews. Nobody watches that crap because Biden is a ratings drain and has little to no support from the American people.
