CHAPLAINS MAKE OVERSEAS VISIT

Canadian Padres Expected to Confer With Chief of Forces

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—(CP)—Canada's senior Protestant and Roman Catholic chaplains soon will visit the Dominion's fighting units overseas.

Col. G. A. Wells, Anglican bishop of Cariboo, and Col. C. L. Nelligan, Catholic bishop of Pembroke, said Tuesday night they plan to visit not only army units stationed in the United Kingdom, but also Royal Canadian Air Force and Royal Canadian Navy units overseas.

While in Britain, they will confer with Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of an army corps made up largely of Canadian troops, and with Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes and Maj.-Gen. Victor Odlum, commanders of the Canadian 1st and 2nd divisions respectively.

Bishop Wells also will have an opportunity to visit his daughter, Ruth, who is serving in England with the air transport auxiliary of the Royal Air Force.

041-022-028